3 Reattach the battery lid.

4 AV (AUDIO/VIDEO) INPUT CONNECTION

The TV's audio/video input jacks are for direct picture and sound connections between the TV and VCR (or similar device) that has audio/video output jacks. Follow the easy steps below to connect an accessory device to the AV In Input jacks located on the back of the TV.

1 Connect the VIDEO (yellow) cable to the VIDEO AV In jack on the back of the TV.

2 Connect the AUDIO (red and white) cables to the AUDIO (left and right) AV In jacks on the rear of the TV.

3 Connect the VIDEO (yellow) cable to the VIDEO OUT jack on the back of the VCR.

5 FRONT AND SIDE AV CONNECTIONS

Audio and Video Front (or Side) Inputs are available for a quick connection of a VCR, to playback video from a camera, or attach a gaming device. Use the AV button on the remote control to tune these inputs.

1 Connect the video (yellow) cable from the VIDEO output on the Camera (or accessory device) to the Video (yellow) Input located on the SIDE (or FRONT) of the TV.

2 For Stereo Devices: Connect the audio cable (red and white) from the Audio Left and Right Outputs on the Camera to the Audio In (white) jack on the SIDE (or FRONT) of the television.

5 Press the PLAY ► button on the accessory device to view playback, or to access the accessory device (camera, gaming unit, etc.).

6 S-VIDEO (S-VHS) INPUT CONNECTIONS

The Super-Video connection on the rear of the TV can provide you with better picture detail and clarity for the playback of accessory sources such as DBS (digital broadcast satellite), DVD (digital video discs), video games, and S-VHS VCR (video cassette recorder) tapes than the normal antenna picture connections.

NOTE: The accessory device must have an S-VIDEO OUT(jack) in order for you to complete the connection on this page.

7 COMPONENT VIDEO (CVI) INPUT CONNECTIONS

Component Video inputs provide for the highest possible color and picture resolution in the playback of digital signal source material, such as with DVD players. The color difference signals (Pb, Pr) and the luminance (Y) signal are connected and received separately, which allows for improved color bandwidth information (not possible when using composite video or S-Video connections).

NOTE: When using additional accessories, only one external source will be available, as there is only one set of sound inputs. Component Video (CVI) input will dominate over all other inputs, including S-Video (S-VHS) and AV. When S-Video (S-VHS) is used, it will dominate over the AV input.

1 Connect one end of the (Y, Pb, Pr) Video OUT(jack) from the DVD player (or similar device) to the (Y, Pb, Pr) input(jack) on the TV. When using the Component Video Inputs, it is best not to connect a video in the AV in video input.

2 Connect the red and white Component Video Cables (to the Audio (left and right) output jacks on the rear of the accessory device).

3 Connect other end of the S-VIDEO CABLE to the S-VHS (S-Video) OUT jack on the back of the VCR. Then connect the other ends of the AUDIO (red and white) CABLES to the AUDIO (left and right) OUT jacks on the rear of the VCR.

4 Turn the VCR and the DVD (or digital accessory device) ON.

5 Press the AV button or the CH + or CH - buttons on the remote to scroll the available channels until CVI appears in the upper left corner of the TV screen.

6 Insert a DVD disc into the DVD player and press the PLAY ► button on the DVD Player.

8 AV (AUDIO/VIDEO) OUT(put) CONNECTIONS

The Audio/Video Output jacks are great for recording with a VCR or used to connect an external audio system for better sound reproduction.

AUDIO SYSTEM CONNECTION:
1 Connect one end of the R(right) and L(left) AUDIO jacks on the TV to the R and L audio input jacks on your amplifier or sound system. Set the audio system's volume to a normal listening level.

2 Turn the TV and audio system ON. To adjust the volume on the audio system, you will need to change the volume at the external audio system, not the television.

SECOND VCR CONNECTION:
NOTE: Refer to panel number 4 for the proper hookup of the first VCR. Follow the instructions on how to tune to the AV1 channel to view a pre-recorded tape.

The following steps allow you to connect a second VCR to record the program while you're watching it.

1 Connect one end of the yellow Video Cable to the AV Out/VIDEO plug. Connect the other end to the VIDEO IN plug on the second VCR.

2 Connect one end of the red and white Audio cable from the AV Out AUDIO L and R jacks on the TV to the AUDIO IN jacks on the VCR.
